A Knitted Lace Shawl

Tricia Weatherston, Instructor $35.00

There are so many different ways to knit a shawl. Buds of May is an interesting crescent shape with a sideways construction, that starts at a point and increases over the width, incorporating more patterning as it grows to its full width and then starts decreasing. This pattern is charted with little written direction and knit with fingering weight yarn. The shawl can be seen in Ravelry at <https://www.ravelry.com/patterns/library/buds-of-may>. Purchase of pattern in advance is through Ravelry.
