

Founded in 1976, the Lost Art Lacers seek to preserve, encourage, and promote the making of handmade lace. Our members work in all the major forms of lacemaking:

Bobbin Lace, Knitting, Crochet, Tatting, Needle Lace, Drawn & Pulled Thread Work

Our demonstrations are in great demand. We have been seen at:

- Millbrook Village, in the Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area
- The New Jersey State Fair / Sussex County Farm & Horse Show
- Cooper Mill, Chester, New Jersey
- Stickley Farms, Parsippany, New Jersey
- Grey Towers, Milford, Pennsylvania

The group offers to its members the following:

- Access to an extensive library of books and videos on lacemaking
- Newsletters 8 times per year
- Advance information of Lace Days and Exhibits
- Workshops with professional instructors
- The opportunity to share information and knowledge with other lacemakers

The yearly dues are $15.00. Please make checks payable to The Lost Art Lacers in the amount of $15.00 and enclose with the application form. For further information, please contact our membership chair (membership@lostartlacers.org) or Clara Eastby at 973-875-6922 (claraeast22@centurylink.net) or Mary McGuinness at 973-366-9353 (lacewings@verizon.net).
